

Special Presentation
2017

Unveiled

A one-woman play
by Rohina Malik

October 29, 2017
at 3 p.m.

East Wing Conference Room
Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago
1100 East 55th Street, Chicago

Racism. Hate crimes.
Love. Islam. Culture.
Language. Life.

Five Muslim women in a post-9/11 world serve tea
and uncover what lies beneath the veil.

*Samples of the five teas featured in the play,
a brief discussion with the playwright/performer and book signing will follow.*

$5 for students
$10 for non-students

To purchase tickets:
<http://ccme.lstc.edu/activities/unveiled.php>

Sponsored by

Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago

Rohina Malik is a playwright and solo performance artist of South Asian heritage who was born and raised in England. Unveiled had its world premiere at the 16th Street Theater, where it received critical acclaim. It was recently presented in two South African theater festivals. Her plays, The Mecca Tales and Yasmina's Necklace, have been nominated for Joseph Jefferson Awards. Yasmina's Necklace is being performed at Chicago's Goodman Theater this fall. She is a Resident Playwright at Chicago Dramatists and Artistic Associate at the 16th Street Theater and Voyage Theater Company in NYC.